Pregenger's Resort at Grass Lake Bombed by Chicago Racketeers

Pregenger's resort on Grass lake was one of three places bombed Sunday night by Chicago racketeers in what Sheriff Stanley Christian said is an effort to muscle in on the pin ball and slot machine business.

The windows in the rear of the resort were blown out and a woman was cut by flying glass, but otherwise there was no serious damage or injury.

The Claude Hutchinson pinball repair shop at 18 S. Sheridan rd., in Waukegan and Pop's place on Skokie highway and Rte. 176 likewise were bombed in the same manner, black powder bombs having been used.

Sheriff Christian said that word of the arrest of Albert R. (Rudy) Craner, owner of the Red Pepper on Green Bay rd by federal authorities for having slot machines is believed to have given the Chicago slot machine operators the idea that Lake county is to be wide open for the summer and they have decided to claim the territory as their own.

Christian said that the Cook county men are mistaken and that the county is not to have slot machines.

The county commissions have threatened to take away state liquor licenses from taverns that have gambling in connection with them.

As the result of the bombing Sheriff Stanley Christian called for the removal of all gaming devices all over the county.

Here in Antioch the few slot machines that were in taverns were removed and the bookies were closed. Even punch boards were removed.

Silver Lake was the victim in last week's game played at Silver Lake. The boys played real ball and were on the long end of a 3 to 6 score in the closing inning. Bruce Dalgard was on the mound for the locals.

Zion took some of the starch out of the local team on Memorial Day at the Zion field. The game was somewhat of a heart-breaker for the home team as the game was lost in the last of the ninth by a 10-11 score. Ray Bushing acted as hurler for the Antioch team.

June 10 Deadline For Requesting Allotments

Owners and operators on whose farms wheat has not been seeded for harvest in any of the years 1947, 1948 or 1949 must file written application with the County Committee by June 10, if they desire a wheat allotment for 1950. This announcement has been issued by C. A. Faulkner, chairman of the Lake County AAA Committee.

Dr. J. H. Williamson, former law enforcement commissioner of Chicago, will speak on the "Five C's". He will tell them that they stand for "Crime, Capone, Courts, Country and Conscience", and coming at a time when Capone is again becoming active in Lake county the speech should prove timely.

The Rev. T. E. Rodd, pastor of the Community church at Lake Villa, delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening at the school.

Mr. Rodd appealed to the graduates to hold on to their ideals despite the fact that they seemed to be shattered by those in their surroundings. He promised a rich reward of satisfaction in their advanced years.

The parade was headed by the colors of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion and the high school band, directed by Hans von Holwede.

Groups marching were the VFW and American Legion and their auxiliaries, Sons of the Legion drum and bugle corps, Gold Star mothers, boy and girl scouts, cub scouts and brownies. Tony Sciacero was the parade marshal.

The Memorial day program opened at the village park with the high school band playing "The Star Spangled Banner." The Rev. Francis Flaherty gave the invocation, after which R. G. Holtz, master of ceremonies, introduced the gold star mothers present. Speaker for the afternoon was Harvey L. Shipp, member of the Irving Park Veterans of Foreign Wars post and a member of Victory post, American Legion. He spoke on the subject, "Memorial Day and What it Means to Us." Labor Despotism Rebuked

According to the Washington correspondents, even Administration stalwarts have come to the conclusion that repeal of the principles of the Taft-Hartley Act, and return to the one-sided Wagner Act, will never be accomplished. The temper of Congress, as well as that of the public, is clearly against going to this extreme.

What gives this matter a special significance is that after the last national election the labor leaders openly claimed credit for the result, and apparently believed that from then on they would be given blank checks when it came to ordering legislation.

Yet the labor leaders have never been able to demonstrate anywhere near as much power as they claim—nor have they been able to control their own union members. To take one example, in the 1948 primaries the CIO-PAC group, which was most active politically, formally opposed 109 members of Congress who had voted for the Taft-Hartley measure. Of these, 97 won. Furthermore, of the 12 who lost, only three came from industrial states where organized labor constitutes an important percentage of the total vote.

The rank and file of union members—the men and women who pay the dues and do the work—are not vocal. The leaders do the talking and make the news columns. But every available fact indicates that union people, like the rest of the people, vote according to their own convictions, and not in accordance with the dictates of any boss. The evidence also indicates that a great many loyal union members believe that the Taft-Hartley Act, in most of its provisions, is sound and fair, and has done much to free organized labor of despotism and racketeering at the top.

Blocking Real Flood Control

The Holdenville, Oklahoma, Daily News has made this sound observation: "It seems the people can never propose a flood control program without a bunch of socialistic bureaucrats immediately trying to tie a public electric power plan into it."

"This is certain to keep many flood control projects . . . from becoming a reality without further long delays. . . ."

"Yet we continue to see every major flood control proposal immediately tied into a power producing project, with doubling and trebling of costs, by the ever-present lame-brains who have never successfully operated a business but who scream to high heaven for more tax money to squander on government-owned and operated power industries."

There should be no misunderstanding as to why this is so. Long ago, socialistically minded politicians discovered that "flood control" made the best possible camouflage for their schemes. Everybody is in favor of stopping destruction by floods. It seems to have no tinge of commercialism or the socialist ideology. So flood control is always stressed, even when the real purpose is to build up a government monopoly of electric power production throughout the nation.

The fact that this has caused a waste of billions doesn't trouble the socialists a whit. Neither does the fact socialization of enterprise is the surest way to the ultimate breakdown of free, representative government. Those who still believe in our traditions will have to stop the trend if it is to be stopped.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Sure is funny how we put up with the antics of Uncle Sambo. The old boy used to be quite a dignified, responsible kind of geezer. But now look at him—a foot in every door, almost. And instead of setting us an example in thrift and industry, he is out there with his coat off, chasing rainbows. Wants to be the guy to fix everything—show the electric fellows how to turn the lights on and off—to say how much to pay down on a washing machine—how full to fill the corn crib and the kind of padlock on the door—what kind of bed in the hospital and what kind of hospital—who is to yank an abscessed molar and at how much for each and when he will do it. If this nation was made up of 2-year olds only, Sambo could be no busier looking after us.

I figure it is okay and all right for the Govt. to keep a weather eye peeled and sort of look out for some of us more or less lame and halt—be kind of an umpire and referee—but for the Govt. to go a la Europe—socialistic, like it is leaning now, we are not going to come to any good end.

It would sure be nice reading to wake up some morning and find that Congress has called a halt—and is closing up shop and coming home. That would be champion.

Yours with the low down,

JO SERRA

Sylvester Says:

"If new home costs would burden you — just wait till you get your bill for public housing."

Public housers in the Federal Government are asking Congress for the right to spend over 17 billion dollars and construct one million, fifty thousand public housing units in the next 3½ years. At this rate each public housing unit will cost you, the American citizen, approximately $17,000. None of this money will be repaid and it does not include cost of land, architects, and other fees.

This public housing will cost more than Americans paid to buy the over two million, two hundred thousand homes constructed by the private building industry during the last 3½ years. The average sales price of homes produced by private industry was about $8,000, or less than half the amount being spent to produce each public housing unit.

PRIZE CONTESTS

Every Entry Gets Judged

CHICAGO, Ill.—Some men and women are sure of making money on prize contests.

They don't take part in them. They get paid for handling the entries.

These specialists handled more than 10 million pieces of contest mail last year for the Reuben H. Donnelley corp., prime operator in that field.

Volume rises and falls in pace with the popularity of the contests. The flow of mail reached flood stage a couple of years back when Bob Hope's radio sponsor was giving away four cars a week. They were sent to folks who wrote the best rhymes starting with "my favorite brunet."

The judges filed and forgot the winning jingles. But they remember a verse that got nothing more than a laugh. It went like this:

"My favorite brunet
Is Hedy Lamarr.
Just send her to me
And keep your new car."

Didn't Make Grade
Hearty A. M. Anderson, Chicago manager of Donnelley's direct mail division, explains:

"This one amused us, but it didn't make the grade on the Donnelley objective rating system."

Most contests are put on to stimulate sales of new or established products. They are advertised on the radio and in newspapers and store displays. Prizes are offered.

Contestants have to write jingles or short essays, provide a name for a new kind of food, or fill out testimonials stating "I like this because..." They may have to send in wrappers or box tops, too.

Sponsors pay Donnelley a fee for handling the contest mail. The letters are addressed to a post office box in Chicago, New York or Los Angeles. The firm has offices in all three cities. One of them takes over the sifting and judging job.

The bags of mail are picked up at 1 p. m. That gives the postal clerks time to sort the mail that comes in on overnight trains.

The entries are read and screened by four sets of judges. All are Donnelley employees. All are college graduates. The final judges—who pick the winners—are Donnelley executives.

Every Entry Judged
"Every entry is carefully considered," Anderson says. "They are evaluated on a basis of the contest rules, usually aptness, sincerity and originality."

The contest crews find many surprises and chuckles in the mail bags. Things like rhymes spelled out in a crocheted table scarf or in the frosting on a cake. Thousands of entries were wrapped around eggs—most of them thoughtfully hard boiled—one Easter season.

Sacks have yielded income tax returns and love letters that were sealed in the wrong envelopes, sly offers to split the first prize 50-50, pies, cookies, photographs—and one long dead fish.

The number of men and women who work on contests depends on the size of the contest. Anderson says as many as 600 have been on contest duty at one time. He says the concern handles about 75 per cent of the national contests. It had 100 in 1948 and expects to handle as many this year.

Judge Holds Auto Horn Is "Useful" Accessory

MILWAUKEE.—A motorist's argument that an automobile horn is a "useless gadget that only makes people nervous" failed in the district court.

The motorist, Charles McGee, 28, of 1826 W. Fond du Lac av., was fined $5 by Judge Harvey L. Neelen on a charge of operating an automobile without a horn. McGee was arrested when his automobile stalled at N. Plankinton avenue and W. Michigan street.

"There is no reason for a horn," McGee told Judge Neelen. "With good brakes, good lights and good steering, an automobile is better off without one. A horn only makes people nervous."

Judge Neelen replied that "if any automobile ever needed a horn it is the 12 year old one you drive."

The judge said that a horn which warns a pedestrian sometimes is the difference between life and death.

Dunkerque Hero Gets Five-Year Prison Term

PARIS.—Lieut. Gen. Alfred Fagade, who fought off the Germans at Dunkerque, was stripped of his rank and condemned to five years' confinement by a court-martial for having offered to join the German Waffen SS while a prisoner in 1944.

Lieut. Gen. Rene-Paul Dubuisson received a four-year suspended sentence but was deprived of his rank and personal wealth, while Maj. Gen. Jacques d'Arras was acquitted.

Fagade, who also was stripped of his personal wealth, pleaded just before the court pronounced its findings that he had never intended to serve in the German army but had merely wanted to get the chance to return to France.

Waitress

Puts Out Fire, Fined

PASADENA, CALIF.—Gloria Miller, 24-year-old waitress, was fined $25 because she put out a fire in her apartment and neglected to notify the fire department until 12 hours later.

Her landlord, William Berk, produced the $25 and spoke glowingly of his tenant.

"Hers was a heroic action which prevented greater property damage and possibly loss of life," the landlord said. "I spoke to several firemen about the state law requiring all fires to be reported, no matter how trivial. They admitted they had never heard of it."

Then Berk announced he was cutting Miss Miller's rent 10 per cent.

"Hot ziggy!" she exclaimed. "Oops! Maybe I'll have to report that!"

Oak Ridge Opens First Public Museum On 'Man And Atom'

OAK RIDGE, TENN.—As part of a broad program of public education in the field of nuclear sciences, the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies has established the world's first permanent museum dealing with atomic energy.

To be known as the American Museum of Atomic Energy, the exhibit was opened to the public on March 19, when the security gates to the town of Oak Ridge were removed and the community itself adopted a normal residential and business role.

The museum is operated by the institute, a non-profit educational corporation of nineteen Southern universities which conducts a program of research and training in the nuclear sciences under a contract with the atomic energy commission.

The exhibit includes the "man and the atom" show which was shown at the New York City golden jubilee last summer. It is described as the most complete exhibit ever assembled in the field of atomic energy.

The display is housed in a 32,000-square-foot structure used as a cafeteria during the war. A nominal fee is charged for admission and the proceeds will be used for improvements in the exhibit. The institute has assembled a trained staff for the museum.

Hamburg Night Life Irks British Occupation Force

HAMBURG.—The sign on the door of the plush Atlantik Hotel still says verboten to Germans.

Sickly kids beg cigarettes as British cars roll up.

Half a mile away across the Alster, the picturesque lake in the middle of Hamburg, stands another hotel, The Esplanade. There are no signs here because this is a German place.

Inside The Esplanade, waiters in tails hover over prosperous-looking men with beautiful, expensively dressed women. A band plays far better jazz than you can hear in a British club.

Outside stand the kids, this time begging from Germans.

This is Hamburg, 1949. The feverish pulse of currency reform has given the city a Parisian glow. Everyone agrees it's the most luxurious place in Germany. One reason may be that it's a port, another that the bombs which wrecked the out-skirts spared the center. At night thousands of lights twinkle around the beautiful Alster.

If it's night life you want, you can go to The Esplanade, or The Tarantella, or a place called Er und Sie (he and she), done in cream and dark blue in the best New York tradition.

A bottle of good champagne costs 35 marks. At the official rate of exchange, this is $12.

Navy Official Chides "Gadget War" Beliefs

WHITE OAK, MD.—The assistant secretary of the navy for air, John Nicholas Brown, has chided scientists for spreading the idea that wars might be won easily with gadgets and "extraordinary" weapons.

"The ability of a human being to survive the blows of his enemies, in whatever form delivered, is immense," he said in a speech for the dedication of the central unit of a new $35,000,000 navy ordnance laboratory.

"His capacity not only to survive, but his faculty of continuing to fight, is amazing," Brown continued. "The facility with which he finds means to counter the most highly developed machines of warfare is discouraging."

"The idea of war easily won by means of extraordinary weapons is an old one and very appealing. It is an extremely dangerous concept to propagate. I fear it may tend to give our people an idea of war very far indeed from that justified by the facts as we know them."

"It must be confessed that much of the misapprehension regarding the nature of war stems from commentaries by men whose knowledge of science vastly exceeds their experience in the awful actualities of combat."

SHORT STORY

Murder By Two

By Richard Hill Wilkins

IT SEEMS to be universally supposed," said Inspector Ben Odell, "that people who aren't in their own element are at a disadvantage."

"I'm thinking of the time Detective Sergeant Rod Upshur went up to Round Pond for his summer vacation. Rod was city bred and city raised. He worked on the police force of one of the country's largest cities. He didn't know a great deal about the country and country ways. But he knew human nature, and he was smart."

"Rod was staying at one of those summer camps and was having a pretty dull time, when Henry Graves, the owner, came to him with a request."

"There's been a drowning up the river a ways," he explained. "Jed Thomas, the local officer, isn't so sure but what there's foul play. I know it's out of your jurisdiction, but we'd appreciate having you lend us a hand." He smiled flatteringly. "You see, your fame as a detector of crime is far reaching."

"Jed Thomas, a farmer by trade, was congenial and willing to let Rod assume the entire burden."

"Fact is, Mr. Upshur, there's been a feud hereabouts. Between the Hallams and the Spencers."

"Well, sir, couple days back Herm and Punk Hallam come to me an' says they was bait diggin' in their lower pasture and suddenly they sees a boat with Pat Spencer in it come sweepin' around the bend. He was clear across the river, which is about 200 yards wide there, an' they claim he hit a submerged log and stuck. They claim he tried to push himself off with an oar an' the oar slipped an' it an' him fell overboard. Well, sir, Pat can't swim an' he just naturally drowned."

"Jed Thomas drove Rod out to the Hallam farm and introduced him to Herm and Punk. They were big strapping fellows, s m u g, amused."

"Sure, sure, we'll go down to the river with yuh," Herm said in reply to Rod's question.

"I see," Rod remarked to Jed, "that you recovered the oar Pat Spencer lost overboard."

MIRACLE SURGERY

Doctors End Long Torture

SAN FRANCISCO.—An unprecedented operation which restored the ability of a 43-year-old man to swallow has been reported by three University of California surgeons.

A gunshot wound caused the affliction of the unnamed patient. He had to take all food and liquid through a tube that by-passed his throat. Any attempt to swallow caused coughing and strangling. He could not appear in public.

After three years of this torture, the man was on the verge of suicide, the surgeons said in a medical publication, The Annals of Surgery.

Bullet Cut Nerves
The doctors, Howard C. Naffziger, H. Glenn Bell, and Cooper Davis, found the bullet had cut four important face and head nerves. The nerves could not be restored. The surgeons decided to try to cross-connect some of the healthy muscles of the throat to replace those made useless by nerve degeneration.

Medical books did not show the surgeons all they needed to know about swallowing. Slow-motion X-ray movies of normal swallowing and the patient's attempts to swallow showed for the first time, they said, the mechanism of the procedure.

Before operating on the patient the doctors experimented on three monkeys.

One of the things about the patient was that some of the useless muscles in his neck bulged out when he tried to swallow, obstructing the throat passage.

The doctors bound these muscles with a strip of thick, tough sheathing tissue which normally covers the main bundles of blood vessels and nerves in the neck.

The other main difficulty was that the patient's Adams apple would not rise. This is one of the important movements in swallowing.

Surgeons Split Muscle
The surgeons made a lengthwise split in a muscle which runs from the back of the head to the base of the tongue and the chin. This muscle normally retracts the tongue. Part of the muscle was left for the tongue. The other part was tied to the Adam's apple, restoring its ability to rise.

The patient was afraid to try his rebuilt throat at first, but now is swallowing normally, the doctors said.

The new operation may help some war wounded.

Filibuster Would Permit Senators to Die Talking
WASHINGTON, D. C.—The ancient and honorable custom of filibustering is based on the proposition that a senator may talk himself to death if he chooses.

American legislators have been taking advantage of the filibuster "right" ever since the nation was born, but now some senators think it's time to put an end to it. Sponsored by Republicans, a proposal to change senate debate rules also has support from some Democrats.

If they have the voice and constitution, senators may now, under certain circumstances, talk as long as they wish. Senators have kept the floor for hours or days and—in relays—for weeks and even months to defeat a proposed law.

They don't talk, necessarily, to persuade opposing senators. They may just talk to make the opposition so weary it will give up out of boredom.

The fabulous Huey Long of Louisiana read the Bible, offered advice on love affairs, told how to fry oysters and make "pot likker," read a biographical sketch of Frederick the Great and quoted Victor Hugo.

Long was supporting an amendment to the national industrial recovery act in June, 1935. He talked 15½ hours but lost the debate.

Police Called to Rid Dwelling of Noisy Cats
ROSELLE, N. J. — In the home of Mrs. David J. Schulman it was the cats' meow—with five of them vocalizing until police drove them out with blackjacks.

One was chased out by the first officer to arrive, but returned. They took to the rafters when attacked. Concerted police effort finally was successful in ridding the home of cats—and howls.

"I can't understand how they get in," said Mrs. Schulman. "The doors are locked."

The cats move too fast to be counted accurately. But Mrs. Schulman said she thought there were five. The howling in the basement, from soprano to bars, perhaps boosts her estimate.

Mrs. Schulman thinks the cats were courting a female feline which belongs to her household "more or less." She said the female just adopted the Schulmans.

When the lady cat goes, Mrs. Schulman hopes the rest of the beasts won't find the house so attractive.

"Last year," sighed Mrs. Schulman, "they were in the attic. We got them out of there, and now they're in the basement."

Also, said Mrs. Schulman, her daughter Valerie, 5, is allergic to cats.

India Nears Gandhi Goal

NEW DELHI.—Mohandas K. Gandhi, a kindly little man of peace, has attained in violent death goals he missed with his preaching of love.

He was slain more than a year ago.

His India and Pakistan are learning to dwell as peaceful neighbors. The fanatical religious warring between Hindu and Moslem in the two dominions has largely subsided. And India, as he desired, is building patiently as a democratic secular state instead of the rightist religious government his assassins wanted.

People Want Justice

What Gandhi would have said about any effort to punish his slayers will be debated in India for a long time. But the people have raised no question that justice should take its course.

Bloody rioting between the Hindu and Moslem populations of India and Pakistan had become commonplace when Gandhi was shot down. He was walking to his prayer meeting place here to continue his crusade for communal peace, when three shots were fired into his body.

The crime occurred as India faced critical times and issues.

There was talk of war between the two new dominions, created when British crown rule of India ended and the country was divided in August, 1947. Refugees crammed the cities, calling for the blood of people of the opposite religion. Hindus had fled Pakistan, and Moslems from India—12 million of them.

Economy Shaken

The economy was shaken on both sides of the border.

Not all of the headway in the past months came about as Gandhi would have done it. There was more rioting, but it ebbed steadily. The police and military crushed it with their guns, bayonets and clubs. Organizations preaching religious hatred were outlawed and harried out of existence.

Under leadership of two staunch friends, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and Governor-General C. Rajagopalachari, India has come far to give Gandhi in death a peaceful land.

A cease-fire agreement arranged with United Nations assistance, stopped the fighting of Indian and Pakistan troops in the neighboring state of Kashmir. In conference, leaders of the two countries agreed to strive for amicable settlement of this and other issues.

Mathematician Declares That Gamblers Can't Win

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Your wife cashes in on a horse because she likes the color of the jockey's jacket. You collect nonnegotiable tickets because you follow breeding lines.

Ever wonder why? A man who has been studying gambling for 15 years says he's found out it's because "you just can't win."

Feeding slugs into his slot machine, Dr. Ernest E. Blanche said: "It's mine and it's honest, but it pays me only 70 per cent."

Dr. Blanche, a 36 year old mathematician, once wanted to be a physician. Instead, he has been diagnosing the probabilities of gambling success.

He aims his preaching against gambling from the practical rather than the moral viewpoint.

"People don't want to be told they can't win," he says. "My theory is that they'll always lose if they stay at it. The ones who can't be convinced are the ones I'm trying to reach."

Some of his conclusions: You've got one chance in 17 of making four straight passes with the dice, shooting for 7, 11 or your point.

If it's eight straight winning throws, the chances are one in 287. If it is 10, you have one chance in 1,181—unless the dice are crooked.

From the mathematical standpoint, he says he has tried all the angles—from roulette to hunting the red centered piece of candy that would entitle him to a free peppermint stick.

His own home is a cache of gambling equipment—all experimental and some of it phony. He says he has been kicked out of some places merely for taking notes.

Burma Rebels See Glamour In Fame of Bandit Maid

RANGOON.—Burma rebels are cashing in on the popularity of a "beautiful young maiden" who rides through the tropic nights on a white horse at the head of a bandit column.

To the government, she is just Ma Khin Nyunt, unglamorous leader of 300 bloodthirsty rebels. They are part of the guerrilla forces attacking police posts, railway stations, and bridges in the interior.

The Lady of the White Horse started banditry before the present civil war, and is still a thorn in the government's side after 18 months. Two other female Robin Hoods—one time school-teachers—are reported leading bands of women who give and ask no quarter.

Reflex Action at Movie

Touches off Old Pistol

NEW YORK.—Reflex action touched off by the exciting climax of a movie thriller resulted here in the accidental shooting of Edward Ryan, 10 years old, by his playmate, Martin DeAngelis, 9.

The shot, from an antique revolver, echoed through the Superior Theatre, Third Avenue, just south of 31st Street, at 2:40 p.m. It halted the show. About 200 persons, mostly youngsters, were in the audience.

The manager, John Hofeditz, hurried to the children's section, and assured the wildly babbling youngsters that there was no danger. From the fourth row he took the wounded boy and his frightened companion and drove them in his automobile to Bellevue hospital. The show resumed.

Edward was rushed to an operating room. There was a gash on his left cheek and the lobe of his ear was singed. Seven stitches were taken in the cheek and then radio patrolmen took the injured boy to his home at 211 East 33rd. street.

Four-Year Old Swallows Dewey-Warren Button

ALBANY, N. Y.—Four-year-old Jean Picard had a narrow escape before an operation for removal of a Dewey-Warren campaign button.

Dr. Daniel F. O'Keefe extracted the button from her stomach at St. Peter's hospital.

Jean, who lives at Cambridge, N. Y., told her mother that she had swallowed the pin button with its images of the defeated Republican 1948 standard bearers—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

"First I thought we should send down a Truman button to try to work out a peaceful agreement," Dr. O'Keefe said with a smile.

Hearth Fires

The neat housekeeper who has her fireplace swept clean of all ashes is an inefficient fire-builder. Ashes should be kept level with the andirons to provide a bed of glowing charcoal which yields steady heat and helps ignite new logs as they are added.

Bovine Brucellosis

Studies made by veterinarians in India showed that prolonged rainy weather and lack of sunshine favored the spread of bovine brucellosis.

Iron Ore Deposits

It is estimated that iron ore deposits exist under about 60 Minnesota lakes. The known amount of ore under two lakes is estimated to be 12 million tons.

Telephone Numbers

An Ohio court ruling has stated that telephone numbers are the property of the telephone company.

Salvation Army Meetings Attendance at Salvation Army meetings in the United States was more than 18 million last year.

Dairy Cows

In 1949, U.S. farmers will have fewer dairy cows than in any year since the early 1930's.

Peach Orchard

Peaches will not grow well on soil where water stands, or those that stay damp and cold over long periods of time. A hillside with suitable soil is the ideal place for a peach orchard.

Overjoyed at Acceptance, Marine Lands in Hospital

WASHINGTON.—James H. Davis, 22, a marine, literally jumped for joy—and landed in a hospital—after his girl agreed to marry him.

Davis slipped the engagement ring on her finger and then took her for a stroll. Buoyantly, he jumped for a low-hanging tree limb, caught it, then slipped. The fall fractured his ankle.

"I thought I was walking on air," said Davis as an ambulance took him away.

New Use for Salad Oil

A South Carolina housewife says rust on kitchen scissors, food choppers, and knives can be prevented by brushing with salad oil.

First Aid

Do you immediately give cuts or scrapes which break the skin first aid treatment by cleaning, applying an antiseptic, and bandaging?

Cooking Cheese

When cooking cheese, follow this procedure whenever possible: blend the cheese in a smooth sauce before adding to other ingredients.

R. R. Track Requirements

A single track requires an average of 175 tons of steel rails per mile.

Grain Feeding

More liberal feeding of grain is needed to keep good milk cows producing at a profit.

Saffron
Saffron was grown extensively by ancient Greeks and Romans. Early cultivation spread from Persia to China to Asia Minor and finally to Europe. Dye derived from pistils. Produces yellow color. Safflower is a plant first cultivated in Spain, Egypt and the Levant, originating in southern Asia. Dye is taken from flower heads growing at end of plant's numerous branches. Produces basic, yellow color and shades of rose, scarlet, purple and violet.

Size of Molecules

One way of determining the size of molecules is to find the least volume into which a known number of them can be squeezed. Another is by noting the average distance one travels before it hits another. The various methods agree very accurately.

Soft Egg Shells
Soft egg shells can be eliminated by feeding plenty of oyster shell, or some source of calcium, and by feeding a ration with plenty of vitamin D.

Siamese Government
In Siam half of the members of the assembly are elected and half are appointed by the king. No opposition is admitted. Less than one-third of the population went to the polls last year.

Coal Mines
Deepest U. S. coal mines, in Pennsylvania, go 2,200 feet down, which is little more than the average Belgian working depth. At Glace Bay, Cape Breton island, coal is mined undersea four miles from the shaft entrance, but only about 2,000 feet straight down.

Milking Time
Average time for milking a cow by machine is 5.3 minutes; by hand it's 8.7 minutes per cow.

Good Rule
The cardinal rule of fire prevention is good housekeeping.
